PAWPOLLER · GETTING STARTED GUIDE

Furbooru

Track score, faves and comments on your Furbooru uploads, and post artwork with the site's rules checked first.

WHAT YOU'LL NEED

- A Furbooru account
- Your API key (posting; optional for analytics)

STEP BY STEP

1 Find your API key

Log in to Furbooru, open Account → Settings, and under API Key press Click to show and copy the key. It is not your password. furbooru.org ↗

Furbooru Account Settings, the API Key section with the key revealed and blurred here

2 Connect in PawPoller

Enter your Furbooru username and paste the API key in Settings. The username alone is enough for analytics — the read API is public.

3 Read the rules once

Furbooru asks every uploader to read the site rules and check the Do-Not-Post list. PawPoller checks the credited artist against that list before every post and refuses with the artist's own conditions when they have claimed one. Rules + DNP list ↗

KEEPING IT ALIVE

API keys don't expire. Only if you regenerate it on Furbooru — paste the new key back in.

GOOD TO KNOW

- Every upload gets a rating tag (safe / questionable / explicit from the piece's rating), the artist as `artist:name`, tags with spaces, and needs five or more tags — the site's own tagging rules, applied before anything is sent.
- A Do-Not-Post claim of Artist Upload Only or With Permission Only stops the post. If you have the artist's permission, or are the commissioner where their conditions allow it, set `dnp_ack` in the piece's Furbooru options and post again.
- Tags on Furbooru are communal — edit them on the site, not from PawPoller.
